Complete disruption to the school day. Covid already created an atmosphere of chaos, this will do the same. Split session is a bad idea and bad policy, and VERY expensive! Energy costs will sky rocket (gas, electricity, natural gas). Students in the HS levels will be coming and going throughout the day causing traffic issues, and it will BE VERY dangerous for those students having to walk home from school due to the changing of the seasons. 	Of equal concern on either possible senario is children being on different tracts. We chose however, disruption to family routines because we thought that encompassed other concerns.	10/23/2022 5:37 PM
	I will be voting no. Not because I don't there are needs, but because I don't believe that the d91 has been good steward of finances and have not been able to convince me that all these project have to be done at once.	10/23/2022 4:53 PM
	With my daughter at compass, I am concerned that compass will increase in size significantly and one of the reasons I needed to send her there was for the smaller learning environment.	10/23/2022 11:47 AM

	Are there not national statistics on how to handle larger school enrollment sizes? And I think I'd want the teachers to still have a summer break since they have to deal with difficult kids for months.	10/22/2022 11:15 PM
	If this is only being considered for IFHS and not other schools in the district I would change my answer to split sessions because my family maintain a more regular schedule that way. If it is being considered for all of D91 I would choose year round	10/22/2022 4:00 PM
	Why has the school board sat on their thumbs and done nothing to upgrade our schools? Rather than repairing our schools and upgrading and expanding them they have let them fall into ruin.	10/22/2022 12:02 PM
	If the year-round school option is used, siblings should be on the same track.	10/22/2022 10:31 AM

	Why don't you redo the boundaries? Serval schools are under their numbers. Also we already know hybrid schools work. Why not giving this a option along with redoing doundries. I also know serval family's who use friends and family's addresses to get them into certain schools. Why not be strict like Thunder Ridge and Sand Creek?	10/21/2022 9:54 PM
	District 91 needs a third high school; the new building should not be to facilitate a repurposement of IF.	10/21/2022 7:34 PM
	We feel like D91 needs to be more aggressive in this campaign! The opposition is spreading misinformation and targeting elderly people. My mother's group of town homes, which are primarily retirees, had flyers placed on their door knobs by the opposition with egregious false statements about how much their taxes would increase. They were stating tax increases on the market value and not the assessed value, creating fear! We would be happy to hand out flyers and inform anyone that will listen. We'd put a sign in our yard. The time is now to bombard the media with real life examples of the real cost of taxes and the real cost to our students and our community if this does not pass. We donated money. We are volunteers to step up their message! Let's Go, Let's Go, Let's Go!!!	10/21/2022 6:47 PM

I worry that either of these options would hurt our family... I worry either of these options could hurt our family time.	10/21/2022 6:21 PM
Money needs to be allocated to renovate IF High School including paying teachers more. It is fiscally irresponsible to build another school that doesn't improve education in Idaho.	10/21/2022 6:17 PM
We really need something done or a new school because both of my daughters go to I.F and they it is difficult to walk through the halls also going up and down the stairs and have no time in between classes to use the restroom. And they will be marked tardy and some things are a hazard and dangerous that a student can end up getting hurt especially when there is a lot of students trying to go through the stairs.	10/21/2022 5:55 PM
Will this backup plan only be applied to Idaho Falls High school, or more ?	10/21/2022 5:48 PM
These are ridiculous options. You need to ask for other ideas, and "make it work" so that teachers, staff, parents, and students are not impacted by your ineptitude to pass a $250 million dollar bond.	10/21/2022 5:02 PM
If the bond fails? Let's say it passes, what will the plan be until the schools are finished? Split or year round school? Or is this a scare tactic to pass the bond?	10/21/2022 4:26 PM
Will there be the ability to make sure siblings are on yhe same tract for year round school?	10/21/2022 3:53 PM
How would year round work with teachers? I have actually been a parent whose "older" children did do year round. The district made sure that families were on the same track. I didn't think it was so horrible for elementary school. The high schools did not participate in year round. That is where our biggest problem is at this time and I believe the impact is greater there.	10/21/2022 3:47 PM
An opportunity should be given to provide a third option with a comment box. Both of these options sound terrible, particularly without any details. If this is a scare tactic to push yes votes, this is not a good way to do that.	10/21/2022 3:46 PM
Economic impact of implementing either of these schedules: additional teachers, electricity, busing.	10/21/2022 3:16 PM
I mistrust the D91 Amin - We don't need new buildings, we need admin that will repair and maintain what the taxpayers have given them.	10/21/2022 2:14 PM
It is a testament to the teachers that they are so dedicated that they are on board with these two plans. I LOVE our teachers!!!	10/21/2022 2:11 PM
How can singleton teachers teach all these different schedules? If you don't have money to renovate and rebuild, how can you pay for the extra teaching time? If a teacher splits their time between two schedules, they won't be able to offer as many options.	10/21/2022 2:06 PM

D91 Bond Parent Survey

It's hard having two students in two different schools. And two working parents that work outside the house. It's asking a lot of parents because of failures to plan when this started becoming a concern awhile ago. The cost of everything is going up and I realize that you are working within the parameters that you have. But this is going to be a struggle for both parents and students and parents are already working against learning loss and keeping their students moving in the right direction. Parents even have a difficult time trusting the educational system as a whole. Where school used to be simple in what it advocated and taught. Adding more stress to parents and students seems a further disservice. I work for a college and have a challenging time working with kids on homework with kids every night to ensure academic success, my husband and I work full-time, and we are constantly tired and burnt out. I have either had to work late or been otherwise unable to make it to board meetings due to prior obligations and last minute notifications. Adding more complicated schedules that upend students social and educational routine would be a disservice. While I do not envy your job, this is a complicated request of parents that could relinquish unintended consequences for students and families. Asking families struggling to make their mortgage payments to just suck it up for the bond or risk having this alternative is a tad rough. I have not seen where board meetings are accessible via zoom or in a manner that can be viewed at a later date. You should allow for a board meeting to be viewable online with the opportunity for feedback to be submitted.	10/21/2022 12:09 PM
For both, the concerns are family time together and all 3 of our kids on the same schedule	10/21/2022 12:01 PM
Options are not great so hopefully it passes	10/21/2022 12:00 PM
What a poorly conceived survey and poorly timed with the bind election less than 2 weeks away. Your problem is you have not adequately explained what the district has done with the increased revenues over the past 10 years due to increased population growth and increased property values. Be transparent with that before you askus for 250 million dollars. No one disputes the need for new schools. We just don't trust how you'll use the money. A No vote from me is on the way.	10/21/2022 11:58 AM
How would the district pay for more teachers to accommodate either year round school or increased hours and schedule? How would you attract good teachers when a better schedule can be found in the nearby surrounding area?	10/21/2022 11:52 AM
Just ask the city to quit building housing. The whole "if you build it they will come" thing. Why are they wrecking our town?	10/21/2022 11:49 AM
Both of these options are terrible. I believe kids academics will suffer. If there is a split session, PM kids won't be able to participate in sports and after school activities. The year round school is a terrible option, too. Summer time is the only time we have to travel to see family that is outside Idaho Falls. The "No" campaign is hitting the pavement and going door to door with door hangers/flyers that are FEAR MONGORING and not entirely true. The uninformed or elderly may actually believe the information that is on the door hangers. For example, most people in IF do not live in homes that have tax values in the $300-500k range, like the flyer list. D91 - please step up the campaign, please be as vocal as the "No" campaign. They are spreading mis-information and targeting the elderly (my mother-in-law's neighborhood was canvased, and she was told that her taxes would go up "$3,000" per year by some young guy passing her a flyer, which is not correct). I plan to volunteer to hand out flyers. We can do this!	10/21/2022 11:49 AM
I suggest that you guys focus on messaging how much growth the city has Experienced in the lack of the schools to keep up. I think resistance to the school bond comes from people who don't have school aged children and don't realize how much change the city has experienced	10/21/2022 11:47 AM
These are impossible decisions, and I hope the bond passes. You have my vote.	10/21/2022 11:44 AM
Something else to think of is that the school district would need to budget for addl staff to cover the addl days/times. We can't hardly find staff as it is.	10/21/2022 11:39 AM
Both of these options decrease the cleanliness and maintenance of the schools. Will the school be cleaned between the morning and afternoon session? Will there be breaks built into the schedule between the tracks to perform routine	10/21/2022 11:33 AM maintenance, repairs, and necessary renovations while the kids aren't in school? And the school fields are consistently used after school for noisy community practices and games. That noise will undoubtedly interfere with student learning for the groups that are in class.

I think this is kind of a ridiculous scare tactic to get people to vote for the bond. I was already planning on it, but this survey and it's timing were really off-putting to me.	10/21/2022 11:26 AM that would be a great idea, to use the same building to educate so many children well, yoe should do this in every school.	10/21/2022 11:24 AM
Do not do either of the above options!!!!	10/21/2022 11:24 AM
Children need time to be children. The current school schedule leaves little time for students for chores, homework, extracurricular, and time for fun. If we go year round or half day what does that mean for our children who are struggling and coping with the everyday demands now. What does this mean for our teachers and staff? Would we lose staff to more desirable pay and benefits? Advertise the online school as you do the other non-traditional schools for our students, this is a great option for students and families. Redo the boundaries for elementary schools.	10/21/2022 11:22 AM
I am concerned if we will be able to obtain a sufficient number of quality teachers for the new schools if the bond passes. I am also concerned with slow construction and time-line. Sidewalks also would need to be put in for safety.	10/21/2022 11:19 AM

I'd really need more specific information to make an informed decision.	10/21/2022 11:04 AM
Neither of these options should be considered	10/21/2022 11:03 AM
I dislike both ideas. Get the word out better in the bond and why necessary. Not just to parents with children but the whole community.	10/21/2022 8:53 AM
These are not the only two options available if the bond does doesn't pass. And the way this is worded is very manipulative in the hopes of invoking fear so people will say yes to the bond. I am in full support of schools and education. My grandparents were teachers. I was a teacher before having kids, and so I value education so much! It is so important, but I feel that we are not being heard. The bond keeps going up in price when things are already so expensive, and a hardship on families. Yes schools need to be supported, and yes a new high school is needed and overcrowding is an issue in some areas, but maybe it is time to look at priorities and alternative solutions. For example, why is it necessary to fund all these "needs" all at once? Maybe focus on one or two of the most important things needed and get a bond for a smaller amount passed to fund those things first. Raising the bond each election is not going to help. Furthermore, when building the new high school, do we need the best technology ever? No. We need good teachers that are supported and happy. What I am saying is that we can't have everything we want all at once. We sometimes have to wait or think outside the box to make things work temporarily, while we work toward a bigger goal. That is how life works. We make sacrifices. We work toward things. We compromise. We listen to one another. And we determine what is most important and truly in the best interest of our kids/students.	10/20/2022 11:58 PM
We can add on to preexisting buildings, add more trailers, or realign boundaries. We can bus kids to further schools. There are always more options. We can elect more innovative-minded people to come up with better solutions than spit sessions and year-round school.	10/20/2022 11:52 PM
Neither the split or year round option is acceptable.	10/20/2022 9:20 PM
Embarrassed that Idaho Falls has a horrible education system and teachers get payed nothing. That makes some teachers go work not caring. The bullying is out of control	10/20/2022 7:28 PM
We love the idea of year-round school. Kids don't have a long summer to forget everything. There are short breaks throughout the year.	10/20/2022 6:05 PM
I've reviewed material to vote no and vote yes. Neither are really compelling to vote either way. Voting no side seems to try to get your emotions of paying more taxes. Voting yes, is because of some overcrowding. I just don't know how bad it is. I agree the two high schools need some work, probably elementary too. For me, i think more facts need to be laid out on the table why we need it. 2nd, who is designing and building the school? I'd like to see that money stay in the state rather than go to out of state companies. If those 3 things are accomplished, I'll vote yes. Best!	10/20/2022 6:00 PM

My kids will go to skyline so my input is not fair to add	10/20/2022 4:41 PM
According to studies, smaller schools and classrooms are instructionally better and safer. Why is the plan to do away with schools we have now, to be replaced by bigger schools? Can't we keep the schools we have and build additional, more affordable schools (meaning smaller than the currently planned new ones) ?	10/20/2022 4:35 PM
D91 is not good at managing its resources or planning and managing expansion. How could a group of people so bad at management be trusted to implement such a drastic change and not negatively impact academics and the students wellbeing.	10/20/2022 4:18 PM
I dont like either but split sessions for me is the better evil	10/20/2022 4:11 PM
I really like the split idea	10/20/2022 3:59 PM
I think if you choose to go either way you need to have an opportunity for students to be able to choose, to an extent, which session they attend instead of assigning them. That way kids can work around jobs or be able to attend with friends.	10/20/2022 3:49 PM
How about taking into consideration other options besides scaring people into choosing between only the two posted? Figure out how to do it cheaper. Don't omnibus the projects into one bond. Bring them up separately with more reasonable prices.	10/20/2022 3:36 PM
We don't need to only update the high school. That's not going to help as much as a second school. If all bonds fail then the district needs to look at different discipline tactics like more out of school suspensions, calling the parents to pick up their children, Saturday school, etc,so these children cannot be a barrier to effective teaching and learning	10/20/2022 3:31 PM
Year round school scares a lot of people. From experience though, it can be very beneficial to the students as well as teachers. Even outside of the bond situation, year round school would be a good idea. Fewer long breaks give better retention results compared to long summers. Larger mid year breaks give families more time for other activities. More days off throughout the year for teachers. Smaller breaks make it easier for parents to keep their kids entertained between school sessions.	10/20/2022 3:14 PM
They go year-round in some other countries, but everything revolves around that. No Summer vacation means weary students who have trouble concentrating.	10/20/2022 2:59 PM

Honestly, I kinda love the idea of year around schools as long as siblings are on the same schedule. Even if the bond passes I'd love to see a switch to year around.	10/20/2022 2:12 PM
We need to start showing what the schools spend money on. Budgeting shown to the tax payers so we know where the money is going. I'll be messaging the city and state as well on this. Way too many hands in the cookie jar and we are made to pick up the slack.	10/20/2022 1:44 PM working parents and they don't have the extra income to have someone watch their children. This leads to more time where small children are not supervised.

You have my support for the bond! As an educator, I know first hand the problems that will occur with going to split sessions or a track system so I will lend my voice in support.	10/20/2022 1:29 PM
Makes it difficult to have custody of child with ex if normal schedules are disrupted or if year round school happens	10/20/2022 1:28 PM
My child has decided of either of these measures is put into place she will withdraw and find another HS or do online. Neither option works.	10/20/2022 1:26 PM
I attended year round school as a kid and it was THE WORST for both kids and parents. It's so difficult to make plans for family and work, and not having a traditional long summer break was absolutely demoralizing as a student.	10/20/2022 1:24 PM
I fully support the bond and am doing everything in my power to spread the message, but I feel this survey and talk about what to do if it fails seems very manipulative on the part of the school board. Focus on the educating the public, not trying to scare voters. ⁸	10/20/2022 1:19 PM
If this goes through I ask for all efforts to have siblings on the same schedule.	10/20/2022 1:17 PM

everything. Raising taxes above what they currently are right now is not the right thing to do for so many families in our community.

Could we split campuses(one building for jr sr, and one campus for fresh, soph? Can you split the bonds so the highschool in on a different one then the elementary schools? Will you use local plans that consider Idaho weather? Madison highschool and our own skyline gym leak after snow melt because they weren't built for Idaho weather.	10/20/2022 12:46 PM
These options will be hugely disruptive to the kids and their learning, especially when we are already seeing significantly lower scores from the way the pandemic was handled. We cannot afford to throw more inconsistency into their lives at such critical times.	10/20/2022 12:46 PM
If all year is student only eligible for sports/marching/plays/dances/concerts if it is their track? I feel that's they way it should be. Oh well if things like sports fall away school is more important. How long would the school year have to be if you did split days? Have you considered a block schedule? Mon/ wed or tue/thur and every other Friday. All year school how does that get families together? So what no more vacations, family outings, etc. I know the school needs rebuilt but there has to be a better option than the 2 presented...I think this is a scare tactic being used to make us vote yes and if that is it "shame on you". We will vote how we will and we shouldn't be scared into it.	10/20/2022 12:46 PM
Possible social problems that may arise if kids aren't with their friends - based on split session	10/20/2022 12:46 PM
Why are we limited to only these two other options? Can parents see a detailed list of the bond and what it includes? Why can we not bring in more competition/bids for the work to drive the cost down more?	10/20/2022 12:44 PM
Will transfer and move to D93.	10/20/2022 12:44 PM
This bond is a joke. I will never be voting to approve it or any bond like it, and I certainly won't be having my family routines ruined by split sessions or year round school either. Find the money you claim to need elsewhere. This bond and any like it will never pass. Get your rich friends and connections to pay for it. Not people scraping by as it is already.	10/20/2022 12:42 PM
I would love a phone call back about your manipulation of my 15 year old son. Your actions have change my vote to no!!	10/20/2022 12:40 PM
Communication is a key to all of this. The football field is a perfect example. When that deal was done it should have been more clearly communicated how it was funded and how it would look if on the tail end of this we would ask for a school bond in a very conservative community. I think the field is a great thing but looking at the school and it's shortcoming I would have thought that would have been some consideration how that would look to those that drive by and see it but don't understand how the water stains on the hall ceilings didn't matter but we have great lights. The heating in the building is bad but we have sideline video capability. The drums are bad for the band that we have to celebrate a kids great effort to raise 30k to buy from but the football team has a great field. I'm voting yes for the bond because I think it matters But communicate and have some vision about perception of what you do and how it looks.	10/20/2022 12:40 PM
Will this burn out our teachers and their abilities to help and educate our children to the best of their ability?	10/20/2022 12:40 PM
This should not be an option to begin with. I strongly suggest that the federal funds that the dist receives should be put towards what the board is wanting to do and pay the teachers better so that we have teachers that want to teach	10/20/2022 12:38 PM
Stop trying to scare people into voting for this bond. It is not a binary decision with no other alternatives.	10/20/2022 12:38 PM

Are all the schools overcrowded or just specific ones? This is a very general questionnaire that target specific audiences but all D91 students. Are all the schools going to need to do year round just because of one or two schools being overcrowded?	10/20/2022 12:37 PM
This is propaganda scare tactic to try and get the bond to pass. Data shows we have less enrollment in every grade now than we did in 1995.	10/20/2022 12:37 PM
This whole situation makes me sad. Our children deserve better. I do not understand why there are so many people who oppose the bond.	10/20/2022 12:36 PM
When I was in school there was always a bunch of portables outside the school and classes were held in them. If there is room for them I know at Longfellow there is could you not set these up and hire more teachers? This seems more cost effective than building all new schools. Just wondering.	10/20/2022 12:36 PM
It feels like Longfellow has a TON of fundraisers for things like playground equipment. I honestly don't like contributing when I know there are bigger needs out there... like new schools needed. Is it possible to fundraise the money needed?	10/20/2022 12:36 PM
I think the Bond you're trying to push is way too high especially in this recession people can afford it. Proving where each cost is actually going to go would be a step and instead of building a brand new school for if remodeling the one you have would be a smarter move stop playing to the rich and listen to the majority	10/20/2022 12:36 PM
Are these the only options we have, year round or split sessions? Neither of those sound like good options.	10/20/2022 12:35 PM
the bond should only be addressing growth items. Skyline does need to continuously have money dumped into it. Middle school overcrowding needs to be addressed.	10/20/2022 12:34 PM
Why have budget funds not been allocated for better upkeep of existing structures? Why is money being poured into sports facilities while kids learn in rundown outbuildings? I am not in favor of the new bond at all.	10/20/2022 12:34 PM

Families' schedules as well as teachers' schedules will be impacted.	10/20/2022 9:19 AM
I would like the board to actually listen to the consultants they hire and admit enrollment is down and is projected to be flat for the next ten years.	10/20/2022 8:52 AM
I'm assuming other costs would be incurred with either of these options; more teacher, electric bills, maintenance concerns, heating and cooling bills-including adding cooling for the summer. Let's hope the bond passes.	10/20/2022 7:27 AM
Why is this fiscal responsibility just on the district residents? Why is the city not being held responsible for approving building permits to contractors and developers without the infrastructure to support it? Why can't the city put a freeze on building until the support for infrastructure is in place?	10/19/2022 10:23 PM additions and the skyline remodel. The sticking point seems to be the IF new school. Why can't we update the existing IF high? This hadn't been explained enough to the public..

All of the concerns listed above I could place as a "number one concern".	10/19/2022 9:31 PM
You need to do a better job at advertising why new schools are needed. Provide hard numbers. "We have XX students and XX capacity. By YY year, we will be XX overfull."	10/19/2022 9:13 PM
Would the parents have any say in which session or track their child is placed? I would be more amenable to these temporary solutions if we could see proposed schedules for each of these. This survey isn't useful without that info.	10/19/2022 9:08 PM
I would love year round school.	10/19/2022 6:58 PM
I support this survey and getting the information out to all voters that this will be a real possibility. Even if the bond passes this could happen during construction. Please also put out information for the new school boundaries.	10/19/2022 6:49 PM
would like more information about what the schedules and tracks would look like.	10/19/2022 6:44 PM
Our district was close to passing the bond last time. Let's make it happen, if it's close again. Please keep trying. It will pass!	10/19/2022 4:56 PM

No kid is going to pay attention to school year round... summer is hard enough as it is without putting kids indoors all day long.	10/19/2022 3:11 PM
This is a hard decision. Are there any other options that we haven't considered? I feel like I am paying for other schools and not receiving the benefits. Westside Elementary is also having big issues with overcrowding, but as far as I understand there is nothing being done about our school. Our families are already strained for money with inflation and now with increasing our monthly payments will put more burden on our backs.	10/19/2022 12:13 PM
My son attends the Community Transition Classroom. It is not listed as an option in question number 5.	10/19/2022 11:37 AM

Skyline needs a safety intervention regardless of bond. The plumbing and the 88 entry points need to be addressed asap.	10/19/2022 10:09 AM
I am concerned about the load on teachers. Would the district hire more teachers so teachers focus on the same number of students? Or would the teachers be expected to put in longer hours each day or work year round?	10/19/2022 9:39 AM
My high school student deserves a better and safe environment to learn in. The satellite classrooms are a safety concern.	10/19/2022 9:31 AM
additional costs associated with year round or split session (recruiting/retaining staff), environmental issues with the schools during summers.	10/19/2022 9:28 AM
This feels like a threat to parents and families for not approving the bond. How about not including a sport complex for skyline and concentrate on building new schools instead. And what about the middle schools, eagle Rock has needed upgrades for a while and it has been skipped over in multiple bonds for the district.	10/19/2022 9:28 AM

I'm for the bond, but the timing of this survey has terrible optics. It looks like a scare tactic. This survey should have been done long ago. The district had better get serious about a clear and concise message defining what the actual situation with growth and over overcrowding is, and it better happen fast. The opposition to the bond is providing a much clearer message on supposed lack of growth and they are using one of the district's assessments to do it.	10/19/2022 9:17 AM
How would sports work?	10/19/2022 8:53 AM
I'm worried about all of these impacts. I know that change is hard, but year-round and split sessions take away huge opportunities for work, academics, sports, and so forth.	10/19/2022 8:48 AM
Either way both choices suck.	10/19/2022 8:22 AM
Move 9th grade back out of the high school and build an additional high school. Stop ignoring the parents in lower income areas and trying to please the new rich people on the south of town.	10/19/2022 6:07 AM
Split sessions cause more trouble with extra curricular activities, but year round school causes more trouble with coordinating life with students in multiple school districts. Could you offer split sessions with a guarantee of sports students all in the same track so that they can participate... and let students who have jobs choose track as well to give students who need it the option that works best for them.	10/19/2022 6:07 AM
I won't have my kids going to school year round or the possibility of them having their "summers" in winter. I'll pull them and homeschool them at that point.	10/18/2022 11:34 PM
I am very concerned about either of these options. I am concerned about all the reasons listed, along with social/emotional trauma for my boys possibly bring separated from their friends.	10/18/2022 9:50 PM
Both options seem like they would negatively affect staff. I'm curious how much extra staff would need to be hired to accommodate either option.	10/18/2022 9:32 PM
I don't think either of these are good for numerous reasons we would be paying out more for teachers and buses in the long run.is the biggest issue	10/18/2022 9:20 PM
I'm not opposed to longer alternating days, so they're at school 2.5 days a week, split on the last day.	10/18/2022 9:17 PM
Splitting kids from there friends they they have grown up with. Sports being disrupted.	10/18/2022 9:13 PM
Other more reasonable and cost effective solutions should be considered. Such as maintaining and expanding existing schools. No need for district 91 to try to out-do Thunder Ridge HS.	10/18/2022 9:08 PM
While I'm concerned about how this will affect our kids, I'm even more concerned how it will affect our teachers, staff and administrators? What is the cost of a split schedule? It must be outrageous. Where will the funding for that come from?	10/18/2022 9:03 PM
I'm SO frustrated by the lack of universal support for this bond - it's disappointing to vote yes so many times and have the community still not see the importance of passing this measure.	10/18/2022 8:54 PM purchase the land from the school district and essentially have the money to build the new school. The need for this school on the north side is not needed right now. Right now with interest rates high and housing market is declining it's an unstable market to be raising taxes and asking for such a large bond.

Has the school districts looked at condensing the high schools surrounding schools into two larger schools. One each, serving each district, located centrally based off the demographics and population of the area. Plus bringing all surrounding staff into either school.	10/18/2022 8:07 PM
I am in favor for the Bond, however There are always more options like leasing existing buildings as the district did with the career high school. I don't like being "threatened" with things or scare tactics to pass a bond.	10/18/2022 8:06 PM
Both options are terrible	10/18/2022 8:03 PM
It would be important to keep kids in the same grade on the same schedule so they're with friends	10/18/2022 7:57 PM
I'm worried about disrupting the social interaction if there is a split schedule. Staying in school with the friendships you made in elementary and middle school are important in my opinion.	10/18/2022 7:50 PM
Have you thought about a hybrid model of offering year round with split sessions?	10/18/2022 7:50 PM
I don't believe that the enrollment is at its highest level ever, so why is this the only option? I feel like we're being held hostage, if we don't pass this Bond. They seem like ugly tactics. Yes you got plenty of input for the community, but did you consider the price tags, as you're asking people if they wanted all these things - of course not. Things look awesome, until you see the price tag, and then you start thinking now maybe we can shave off a few things. I can't see where any such compromises were made at all.	10/18/2022 7:46 PM
I really hope it doesn't come to this, but I would much prefer year-round school to split sessions, especially if there is a way to ensure my kids are on the same track. Split sessions would make it basically impossible to do any after school sports, through the school or through local clubs.	10/18/2022 7:41 PM
I'm concerned with both options. I fear that the quality of my children's education wouldn't be as good. I fear that teachers will feel overworked.	10/18/2022 7:19 PM
Even if the bond fails there is no need to mess the schedule up.	10/18/2022 6:34 PM
Why was the bid process skipped for the projects? With a project of this scale, it is suspicious that the bid process is skipped. I would be much more comfortable voting yes if the contract went through the bidding process. One could infer that with a project of this scale that some sort of kickback is involved for getting the contract.	10/18/2022 6:19 PM
There are other options than to try to scare people into passing a bond. Get rid of compass, turn it back into a Jr. High. Turn compass into another full high school. Turn Emerson back into an elementary and redo district lines. . Add onto IFHs (you already have a plan for it)	10/18/2022 6:16 PM
Are all the schools too crowded? Would teachers really give up their summers to teach around? If the school went year round I would consider home school because kids desperately need summer break and to make memories with family and friends	10/18/2022 6:13 PM
I think year round school is a great idea. I have thought that for several years. Something is going to have to be done to fix this SERIOUS overcrowding problem if the bond does not pass. Kids and teachers attending classes in shaks and storage closets is beyond ridiculous! Even if the bond passes it would take awhile for new schools to be built. This problem needs	10/18/2022 6:07 PM to be addressed right now! Also, I feel that the 9th graders should go back to the middle schools as well. I think that may help as well.

The data shared by the district at steering committee meetings showed enrollment has been flat in District 91 and is projected to stay flat for the next 10 years. This survey about split session and year-round school directly before the election comes across as a fear mongering tactic. I absolutely support the correct facilities for our kids, but this is not the tactic that will convince the swing voters. My two high school kids had three classes with fewer than 10 kids in them, including freshman history with only 6 students. I think a supermajority of the citizen supports the correct facilities for our students, but when they feel manipulated (whether that is forcing the school on 49th street by starting to build athletic facilities, or scaring them with split-session/year-round talks), the school board loses credibility.	10/18/2022 5:55 PM
These are hard for parents and kids alike. Bond must pass or think of other options.	10/18/2022 5:34 PM
In the event that the bond fails, could Compass be turned into a traditional high school to help alleviate overcrowding?	10/18/2022 5:31 PM

How would split sessions effect teachers and other staff? Shared classrooms, desks, lockers? How would extracurricular activities be handled? How would year round work? Extracurricular activities? Would K-8 th still be normal schedule?	10/18/2022 5:10 PM
Year round school would be disruptive to family life, schedules, routines, etc.	10/18/2022 5:10 PM
Split schedules are not ideal, but would be my recommendation. As a high rate taxpayer, I personally don't support Bonds, and feel our State needs to better budget funds to education appropriately with the tax dollars provided.	10/18/2022 4:58 PM
My child leaves the state to hav	10/18/2022 4:45 PM
No concerns, the board and superintendent are using this as a scare tactic to get yes votes. It's not going to work. Just vote no on huge tax increases!	10/18/2022 4:42 PM
If either of these are implemented we would have to pull our child from school and do home school or private.	10/18/2022 4:36 PM
I am voting "yes". But if it fails, LEAVE IT BE!	10/18/2022 4:31 PM
I don't think people realize some of the other things impacted by split sessions or year round school...more need of buses and meal service, teachers and staff working more hours or needing to hire more employees, family schedules being more difficult, extracurricular activities being harder to plan, etc.	10/18/2022 4:30 PM
What about the over crowding at Skyline? Or are you going to rebuild IF then have another bond to build another school to help with overcrowding?	10/18/2022 4:28 PM
As long as there are ample breaks built into the schedule AND as long as the district makes this change for all school levels to account for siblings in different levels, I would vote to move to year-round permanently.	10/18/2022 4:15 PM
I would prefer neither option actually.	10/18/2022 4:12 PM
Seriously drop the morning afternoon split schedule idea, ask anyone who had split in D93 in 80s, they will all agree not a good thing, increases juvenile delinquency. Ask me how I know, I was on the sessions.	10/18/2022 4:06 PM
Thanks for all you do!	10/18/2022 4:05 PM

How can you possibly get enough education hours on either of those options?	10/18/2022 4:05 PM
We have lived in D91 for 3 years. Talking with long-time community members, it appears this situation of 'too many kids in the schools' and 'over populated schools' should have been addressed and SERIOUSLY taken care of over a decade ago. Now, you are literally giving an ultimatum; pass the Bond or the families in D91 will be forced to send their children to school under 2 options. Students at Idaho Falls High School already have a lack of books to take home for studies (ie. algebra books). That is a Levy issue, but this is chaos.	10/18/2022 4:05 PM
Is there another plan to raise funds that are less than the full amount? 50 million instead of 250 million	10/18/2022 4:04 PM
Why can't the bond be for the biggest problem school right now and leave the others for later? Wouldn't this ensure bigger chances of having the bond pass?	10/18/2022 3:56 PM
It feels like the Board of Trustees is threatening the community with these alternatives rather than actually investigating them. Perhaps the Board should consider NOT spending inordinate sums of money on sports (Ravsten was just artificially turfed, sports complexes are the first thing to be built at a ridiculous cost per square foot of real estate (4 baseball fields...really? 4!! No-one actually knows what at "modernized classroom" actually means. My 7th grader complained recently about having to watch more tv during class than interacting with the teacher. How about the Board actually maintain the current buildings better (OE Bell was abandoned and is now a business building as an example of bad building management) and hire better teachers by paying better salaries rather than insisting on high speed fiber networks in every classroom? Skyline was either built poorly or stupidly (you pick) if it is not feasible to fix and add on a cost effective way. Either way, why should we enjoy a large tax increase now and expect the Board to do any better than the previous Board. We recently heard the Board put up the tax calculator indicating that we shouldn't now that this will cost many somewhere between 15 and $30,000 over the life of the bond. I would be fine with that if the emphasis even remotely resembled being focused on academia rather than sports sports sports sports. Templeview is not overcrowded but you want to demolish and re-locate? That is foolish. Do better and don't threaten us.	10/18/2022 3:53 PM
If any split sessions/year round options are implemented, preference for the best schedules CANNOT be given to school sport athletes. Athletes must be treat the same as ever other student. Many students have activities and commitments that are just as important to the student, but may not be affiliated with the school. Lacrosse, dance, music, work, drama - all outside the school system.	10/18/2022 3:53 PM
Split schedule or year round would be absolutely horrible for families. What about the possibility of turning Compass Academy into a traditional high school? That could ease the burden of over crowded schools. I'm also concerned about staffing for split schedule or year round, we are struggling to find enough staff as it is and this would compound the problem.	10/18/2022 3:52 PM
I will pull my kids out of public schools if have to go year round.	10/18/2022 3:48 PM
The bond is too big. Need to break it up for one project at a time and not something that will be split ad inflation rises.	10/18/2022 3:48 PM
The leadership of the school district (board) seems to be so poorly managed. How do we have money for an athletic complex, but the same money could not have been spent on building one of the much needed schools or upgrading one of our existing schools to meet some of our needs? Why was a bond with lower interest rate being paid off when we need another bond that is at such a higher rate? Why aren't some of these bonds broken up into smaller portions to meet the most immediate needs? Why aren't we addressing the ineffective teachers and principals in our schools first before pushing for new Schools?	10/18/2022 3:47 PM
If teachers have to work all year round they don't get to do their summer work that many of them do to support their families year round.	10/18/2022 3:46 PM

Does that mean teachers will get paid for the additional 3 months?	10/18/2022 3:45 PM
How will teachers be compensated to the extra work? How many good teachers will we lose due to burn out?	10/18/2022 3:42 PM
Neither of those options are good for several reasons. Kids need to be able to work in the summer. How is doing split sessions even an option? You don't have enough staff to handle that because the school day would become significantly longer which would also impact athletics and extra-curricular activities. You're going to run into the same problem with year round school.	10/18/2022 3:41 PM
Would This decision affect all schools or just the ones with over crowding?	10/18/2022 3:39 PM
The school system lags so far behind other nations. Year round school would hopefully allow for less of a gap. This may have a negative impact on special needs. Need more research....	10/18/2022 3:37 PM
Would any of these impact skyline also or the middle schools and elementary schools?	10/18/2022 3:37 PM
This would be a huge disruption to our family lifestyle and work schedule. I pray the bond passes, we need it so badly!	10/18/2022 3:36 PM
I will be voting yes on the new school, but certainly more temp housing is also an (albeit awful) solution, not just split sessions or year round school. I am 100% voting yes for the new school, but this suggestion does feel like a threat since it is the only alternative being presented, which it cannot be. I will likely move to D93 if we move to a split session form.	10/18/2022 3:34 PM
Both of these options are difficult to choose from. Split sessions means less time in the classroom for my kids, which I don't necessarily think is ideal. Year-round school can interfere with summer family traditions, and can complicate schedules is my kids end up in difference tracks.	10/18/2022 3:34 PM
How would that work for teachers that have students in the district? I work as a music para and I don't see how I would be on the same schedule as my kids with split schedule. I would rather have year round (though I really want the bond to pass too!). So many changes that would have to be made with any schedule.	10/18/2022 3:33 PM
We should do year round school for the entire district with 4 day weeks.	10/18/2022 3:32 PM
School year around would not give kids their needed break from school. Having multiple children would make it hard to have any family vacations at the same time.	10/18/2022 3:29 PM
Paying off the old bonds that we're at a lower interest rate than now available was a very bad decision	10/18/2022 3:28 PM
Increasing worry over arts being displaced.	10/18/2022 3:28 PM
This would be my son's senior year and I wish he could have a traditional one.	10/18/2022 3:26 PM
What schools are very likely to be overcrowded? What are the safety concerns?	10/18/2022 3:25 PM
I don't love either option. I would love if the bond were to pass. I have younger children and I wouldn't want them home alone for half the day while both parents work. They also do sports and activities.	10/18/2022 3:25 PM
Does the split schedule or year round schedule apply to all schools in the district or just certain schools?	10/18/2022 3:24 PM
Are there any alternative meeting places/classrooms that teachers and students could utilize?	10/18/2022 3:23 PM
I am not in favor in any way of split schedules nor year round school. I understand this is only an option if this bond fails. But both of those are horrible options. We don't want any changes to the schedules. It's a sad reality that people in this	10/18/2022 3:22 PM community would vote no for this bond and force this decision to take place. I am continuing to spread the word to vote YES to this bond and pray each day that it will pass.

How does this effect elementary school kids? Will they be put on the split sessions or year round schedule? That's going to be very difficult for activities, learning, let alone hard one the parents.	10/18/2022 3:21 PM
Will the number of instructional minutes be the same? Will teachers be compensated for working more hours and serving more students?	10/18/2022 3:20 PM
Kids need breaks that is what summer vacation is for!	10/18/2022 3:20 PM
Although this is not ideal i understand the need to do this. Having said that it complicates a lot of things like sports schedules, practices, family vacations, daily family activity, etc.	10/18/2022 3:20 PM
Year round is better academically	10/18/2022 3:20 PM
I have lost all faith and trust in District 91 administration	10/18/2022 3:19 PM
Please post public interviews about different use of funds and plans for Templeview's existing building. So many do not want to vote for the bond because they feel that the district is prioritizing frivolous things (turf, marquee, etc) instead of classrooms.
