

Psychology Quiz

Lifespan Development Assessment

This part of the assessment is open-note

Behavioral Psychologists

1

Who was the researcher who, through his work with digestion in dogs, first described what came to be known as Classical Conditioning?

(2 Points)

Sigmund Freud

B.F. Skinner

Jean Piaget

Ivan Pavlov

2

Who was the psychologist who developed Behaviorism and proved its effectiveness through experiments with pigeons which came to be known as Operant Conditioning?

(2 Points)

B.F. Skinner

Sigmund Freud

Ivan Pavlov

Jean Piaget

3

What psychologist used this illustration to explain levels of human consciousness?

(2 Points)

Jean Piaget

Ivan Pavlov

Sigmund Freud

B.F. Skinner

4

Who was the psychologist who defined the stages of development in children using the scientific method?

(2 Points)

Jean Piaget

B.F. Skinner

Sigmund Freud

Ivan Pavlov

Attachment Theory

5

In the movie Frozen, Kristoff was taught by his adoptive family to communicate open and honestly with those around him. He has a healthy amount of self-esteem. He doesn't form emotional attachments too quickly, but doesn't avoid them either. What kind of attachment style does he exhibit?

(2 Points)

Secure

Fearful

Preoccupied

Dismissive

6

In the movie Frozen, Anna was so quick to form emotional attachments to others that she accepted a marriage proposal from Prince Hans within hours of meeting him. She was so isolated that she didn't have much self-esteem and was easily manipulated by him. What kind of attachment style does she exhibit?

(2 Points)

Preoccupied

Secure

Dismissive

Fearful

7

In the movie Frozen, Hanz was last in the line to the throne. He thinks highly of himself and that he deserves a throne, though. He manipulated Anna into falling in love with him with the intention of killing both Elsa and Anna. What kind of attachment style does she exhibit?
(2 Points)

Dismissive

Preoccupied

Secure

Fearful

8

In the movie Frozen, Elsa learned at an early age that when she gets close to people, she might accidentally hurt people she loves. As a result, she avoids emotional attachments with others and doesn't think highly of herself. So much so that when her powers manifest, she runs away into the mountains. What kind of attachment style does she exhibit?
(2 Points)

Preoccupied

Dismissive

Secure

Fearful

Parenting Styles

Read the scenarios below and identify what kind of parenting style is being displayed by the caregiver.

9

It's Friday night and your caregiver says you can hang out with your friends, but you have to be home by 11:00. You lose track of time and they call you at 11:10. You choose to ignore the call and plan to tell them your phone died. You head straight home, but don't get home until after 11:30. As soon as you walk in the front door, your caregiver yells, "GO TO YOUR ROOM RIGHT

NOW! YOU ARE GROUNDED FOR TWO WEEKS!" You try to interject and explain that your phone died, but they interrupt. "I don't care what happened. You were supposed to be home over a half-hour ago. Get to bed NOW."

(2 Points)

Authoritarian

Neglectful

Permissive

Authoritative

10

It's Friday night and your caregiver says you can hang out with your friends, but you have to be home by 11:00. You lose track of time and they call you at 11:10. You choose to ignore the call and plan to tell them your phone died. You head straight home, but don't get home until after 11:30. As soon as you walk in the front door, your caregiver is waiting on the living room couch and they ask you to have a seat. They ask you where you were, what happened, and why you didn't answer your phone. You decide not to lie and apologize for losing track of time. After a conversation, they explain there has to be a consequence for your actions and the two of you decide that being grounded for the next week is fair. You then go to bed.

(2 Points)

Authoritarian

Neglectful

Permissive

Authoritative

11

It's Friday night and your caregiver says you can hang out with your friends, but you have to be home by 11:00. You look at your phone and realize it's 11:10. You doubt they even noticed though. You continue hanging out and wander back home at 2:00 AM. Your caregiver is asleep in bed, not having noticed that you stayed out way past when you were supposed to

(2 Points)

Authoritarian

Neglectful

Permissive

Authoritative

12

It's Friday night and your caregiver says you can hang out with your friends, but you have to be home by 11:00. You look at your phone and realize it's 11:10. Your phone ring- it's your caregiver. You answer and they ask where you are. You are dismissive of their concerns and say you want to stay out longer. They say to head home at 11:30. You respond in a whiny tone, "But I wanna stay out 'til midnight!" They immediately concede and say you can stay out until midnight. You finally walk in the front door at 12:15. Your caregiver is awake and looks worried. You say "Sorry I'm late," only half-meaning it. They respond, "I'm just glad you made it. See you tomorrow."

(2 Points)

Authoritarian

Neglectful

Permissive

Authoritative

Read the scenario below and identify the conditioned & unconditioned stimuli & responses

You have recently adopted a new dog and are trying to teach it how to sit on command. You hold a treat in your hand and say the word, 'sit.' Nothing happens, but the dog wants the treat. You say it again and tap on the dog's back hips. The dog doesn't know what the word 'sit' means, but drops its rear legs! You immediately give the dog a treat. You repeat this several times until neither the treat nor the tap is necessary. When you say 'sit,' the dog sits!

13

In the scenario above, tapping on the dog's hind legs is a(n)...

(2 Points)

Conditioned stimulus

Unconditioned stimulus

Conditioned response

Unconditioned response

14

In the scenario above, the dog sitting when tapped on the hind legs is a(n)...

(2 Points)

Conditioned stimulus

Unconditioned stimulus

Conditioned response

Unconditioned response

15

In the scenario above, telling the dog to sit is a(n)...

(2 Points)

Conditioned stimulus

Unconditioned stimulus

Conditioned response

Unconditioned response

16

In the scenario above, the dog sitting when you say the 'sit' without a treat is a(n)...

(2 Points)

Conditioned stimulus

Unconditioned stimulus

Unconditioned response

Conditioned response

Reinforcement and Punishment

Identify the following scenarios as either positive/negative reinforcement/punishment.

17

A person gives a treat to their dog when they sit on command

(2 Points)

Positive reinforcement

Positive punishment

Negative reinforcement

Negative punishment

18

A person hits snooze on their alarm clock because of the irritating noise

(2 Points)

Positive reinforcement

Positive punishment

Negative reinforcement

Negative punishment

19

A parent spans their child for cursing.

(Don't spank your children)

(2 Points)

Positive reinforcement

Positive punishment

Negative reinforcement

Negative punishment

20

Mr. Klimek takes a student's phone when they take it out during class.

(2 Points)

Positive reinforcement

Positive punishment

Negative reinforcement

Negative punishment

Sex and Gender

21

Given the following definition, how many sexes are there?

"Sex is the biological & physical manifestations of a person's chromosomes at birth"

(2 Points)

Fewer than two

Two

More than two, but fewer than ten

A currently indeterminate amount

22

Is a person's sex a choice?

(2 Points)

Yes

No

It depends on who you ask. Research is currently inconclusive

23

Is sexual attraction a choice?

(2 Points)

Yes

No

It depends on who you ask. Research is currently inconclusive

24

Given the following definition, how many genders are there?

"Gender is a sociological construct of both how one sees oneself and society's expectations of masculinity and femininity."

(2 Points)

Fewer than two

Two

More than two, but fewer than ten

A currently indeterminate amount

25

Is gender a choice?

(2 Points)

Yes

No

It depends on who you ask. Research is currently inconclusive